Scholarship Search

WHEN ASKED ABOUT their interest in scholarships, the response is nearly unanimous; parents and students alike are always looking for any opportunity to lower their out of pocket expense for college. Scholarships are usually the first thing to come to mind.

As part of your college solution, we provide a multi-page report listing scholarships for which your student may qualify. Our database is updated monthly and searches over 16,000 available scholarships. The search is done using many different parameters in order to explore the greatest number of opportunities. We can search by state, or even by a list of schools to which your student is interested in attending. We can find scholarships based upon demographics and special interests, as well. We can even search for merit based aid based upon your student's test scores and GPA.

Although we encourage the student to actively investigate and pursue scholarship opportunities from a variety of public websites on their own, this report will provide them a jump-start on that pursuit.

Information provided on the report includes scholarship qualifiers, contact information, range of awards, and deadline information in addition to website addresses for further information.
